Madison Mayor John Bellcoff presides over a recent City Council meeting.

Mayor Bellcoff to retire

Long career nears end

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

When Madison Mayor John Bellcoff retires next year, he will mark 50 years of community service.

Bellcoff, 73, has brushed elbows with Bill Clinton and John F. Kennedy. His influence has contributed to the success of public and private endeavors not only in Madison, but in the entire region.

"John has significant influence to assist with state government to help all the community in this area," said Ted Ellerman, president of St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

For example, when the federal government recently considered slashing funding for enforcement groups — undercover drug investigation agencies — Bellcoff first wrote Attorney General Janet Reno and then President Bill Clinton.

Skip Bennett, director of the Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission, is convinced Bellcoff's input was a significant factor in getting continued funding for the enforcement groups.

But the former chairman of the Madison

Truck route plan meets opposition

19th Street designation considered

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

The owners of several businesses in downtown Granite City are upset about a tentative plan to change the city's truck route. The City Council's Traffic and Lights Committee is considering a change that would send tractor-trailer trucks loaded with steel coils down 19th Street.

"I'll put us out of business," said Judy Stille, owner of the Tops 'N' Bottoms women's wear store at 1343 19th Street. "This will kill downtown. Absolutely. This is really dumb."

Other businesses along 19th Street include Jim's Pawn Shop and Jewelry, Krumrey's Home Furnishings, Granny's Corner resale shop, Cardin's Carpets and Interiors, National Auto Supply and Olde Town Cafe (formerly known as the Pit Stop Cafe).

A former City Hall, restored as a firehouse museum, is also located on 19th Street, as is the former Woolworth store, scheduled for demolition to become a park-and-ride lot for the Madison County Transit District.

The proposed change was prompted by lead contamination and deterioration on 16th Street. That road, currently the main route for trucks entering and exiting Granite City Steel's north plant, badly needs repairs — some potholes are as big as two feet deep and five feet in diameter.

Last year, Gov. Jim Edgar pledged more than $750,000 in state funds to help repair 16th Street. But lead contamination on the road must be removed before any improvements can be made. Removal of contamination could cost anywhere from $400,000 to $1.6 million, making the improvement financially unfeasible.

Postal Service removes 12 mailboxes in Madison

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

Madison residents wanting to put something in the corner mailbox will have to find another corner.

Because of low use, the U.S. Postal Service recently pulled a dozen collection boxes from the city.

The move sparked a few protests, including some calls to U.S. Rep. Jerry Costello.

Brian Lott, a spokesman for Costello, said the matter is being investigated.

Postal officials said the boxes were removed because they were not being used.

"If there isn't 25 pieces per day, we have the right to have the boxes pulled," Madison Postmaster Carolyn Wilson said. "The mail volume is not there."

She said the Postal Service did a two-week survey and found none of the boxes were being used. Several years ago, a similar survey resulted in boxes being removed.

Leonard leaving Granite City Steel

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Ken Leonard, who has seen a lot of progress at Granite City Steel in the past couple of years, is leaving the company.

Leonard, vice president and general manager at the plant, announced his resignation Tuesday to take on a job in New Jersey.

Leonard's resignation takes effect May 1, when he will move to New Jersey Steel Corp. to become president and chief executive officer.

"This was just a good opportunity for him at this point in his life," said Bob Maxwell, manager for public relations at Granite City Steel, who emphasized that the move was Leonard's choice.

"I want to make it clear that this was not a forced move," Maxwell said.

The company has not named a successor.

When Leonard took over the reins at Granite City Steel in 1993, National Steel Corp., its parent company, was bleeding in red ink. There was much discussion about closing down all finishing operations at the Granite City Division.

But since that time, Leonard helped oversee the design and construction of a $67 million galvanizing operation, resulting in about 40 new jobs and saving more than 300 more finishing jobs.

Leonard began his National Steel career in 1982 as an assistant engineering manager at company headquarters. A year later, he was promoted to project manager-major projects.

Man charged in child's beating

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

A 33-year-old Indiana man police described as a drifter was charged with two felonies Thursday for allegedly stomping the face of an 11-year-old boy who says he saw the man stealing three days earlier.

David A. Phillips, of Clayton, Ind., was charged with one count of aggravated battery to a child and one count of aggravated battery.

The second charge stems from Phillips allegedly striking a police detective during an interrogation.

Bonds on the warrants totals $130,000. He was arrested at about 8 p.m. Wednesday and is currently in the Madison County Jail.

The 11-year-old victim and two other boys told police they were playing in the alley in the 1900 block of Edison Avenue down town when Phillips approached and started beating on the victim and stomped on the boy's face.

The boy suffered a broken orbital socket and other facial injuries and was taken by ambulance to a St. Louis hospital for treatment.

The boys said they had seen Phillips steal cigars from the 7-Eleven store downtown about three days prior to the beating. They said Phillips promised to give them each $2 if they

Two capture alleged thief

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Two men who were working outside in the downtown area helped capture an alleged nurse snatcher Wednesday morning.

Kelly Revelle of Granite City and Gary Dryden of O'Fallon, both employees of McFarland Heating and Cooling, captured Rodney W. Rich Wednesday and held him until police arrived.

Rich, 27, of the 1300 block of 21st Street, was arrested at 11:25 a.m. Wednesday and charged with theft from a person, a Class 3 felony, in a warrant issued Thursday.

Bond on the warrant is $25,000.

Pontoon OKs transfer

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

The Pontoon Beach Village Board has given Treasurer Lou Whitsell authority to pay back a $30,000 loan to the general fund from the village's tourism fund, and re-borrow money the next day.

The transfer is necessary because loans from one village fund to another must be repaid by the end of the fiscal year on April 30.

However, the general fund — which pays for most of the village's day-to-day expenses — is so low the village must re-borrow the money. Discussion centered on the tourism fund and the village's special savings account, which includes money seized by police in drug raids.

Whitsell said the general fund was at $21,748.63 as of April 24.

He said the village may receive money from Illinois Power by the end of the month, but payroll and bills that must be paid will amount to about $21,000.

Whitsell also told the board that it may have to repay the Motor Fuel Tax Fund approximately $18,000 from the general fund that was either not deposited correctly or credited to the wrong account.

Driver attacked her, woman says

An 18-year-old Edwardsville woman says a cab driver burned her with a cigarette, tried to take her gold bracelet, ripped her blouse and held her in his taxi against her will early Sunday morning in Granite City.

The victim, a former Granite City resident, told police she hailed a taxi cab to get a ride from Laclede's Landing in St. Louis to her home at about 2 a.m. Sunday.

The cab was headed toward Illinois via the Poplar Street Bridge when the cab driver told the victim her $22 would not cover the fare to Edwardsville, according to police.

The driver told the victim that amount of money could get her to Granite City. Because the victim has friends in Granite City, she told the driver to take her there.

But when the cab arrived at the intersection of Leonard and Buxton avenues, the driver informed the victim that $22 was not enough and suggested she give him a gold bracelet she was wearing.

When the victim refused, the driver allegedly yanked her by the hair, pushed the burning end of a cigarette against her cheek, tried to grab the bracelet and burned her forearm in an attempt to get her to give it up, the report states.

The driver also allegedly hit the teen in the forehead with his fist and ripped the buttons off her blouse when she tried to escape the car, the report states.

The victim ran to a friend's house nearby and called police after escaping the vehicle.

Assistant Police Chief Kip Pomeroy of the Granite City police department said the incident is under investigation.

2nd person says lawyer took funds

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

A second person has come forward and alleged that a former Granite City lawyer stole the proceeds from a lawsuit.

Last week, a Chesterfield, Mo., woman told Granite City police that a lawyer — formerly with an office in Granite City but now suspended from practice by the Illinois Supreme Court — kept $4,250 to which she was entitled as the result of a lawsuit.

Police are investigating the allegation, the second of its kind against the attorney within a week.

The woman said she decided to report the allegedly stolen funds after reading of a similar case in the newspaper last week.

Police are also investigating an allegation by Wallace Hopkins, 49, of Glen Carbon, who has says that the lawyer failed to pay his medical bills or distribute the proceeds of a lawsuit settlement. Hopkins told police he endorsed a check for $25,000 and turned it over to the attorney in August 1993, but he is still receiving requests from doctors and collection agencies to pay his medical bills.

The retainer agreement between Hopkins and the attorney called for the lawyer to pay about $10,000 in medical bills, keep 25 percent of the settlement and distribute the remainder to Hopkins, according to a police report.

Hopkins said he has not received any funds and that he has been unable to find his former attorney.

Man is injured in escape attempt

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

A Venice man who allegedly attempted to run twice from a police dog was injured early Wednesday morning.

Johnnie L. Pointer, 17, of the 600 block of Broadway, was arrested on an outstanding warrant by Madison police early Wednesday after he was spotted walking in the 200 block of Ewing Avenue.

He was also charged with two misdemeanor counts resisting arrest and battery to a police dog.

During the struggle, packets containing what tests showed to be marijuana and crack cocaine fell out of his pockets.

He was charged Wednesday with two drug-related felonies. Also on Wednesday, a Madison County judge issued a warrant for Pointer's arrest after he failed to appear on an earlier drug charge.

Three juveniles were also arrested during the incident.

According to police reports, at approximately 12:15 a.m. a police spotted Pointer and a juvenile walking in the 200 block of Ewing Avenue.

After stopping the two, police warned Pointer — who appeared to be preparing to flee — not to run or the police dog would be sent after him.

When Pointer fled, the police dog captured him. While struggling with the dog, Pointer lost several packages containing what police believe to be marijuana and crack cocaine. When police ordered the dog off Pointer, he again fled and the dog was sent after him again.

After being handcuffed, police took the suspect to the hospital, where he was admitted for surgery to his leg.

The juvenile with him was charged with a curfew violation and disturbing the peace, and was later released.

Two female juveniles who taunted police during Pointer's arrest were also taken into custody.

Festival

GRANITE CITY

Festival donates flags and poles

By Patrick Mullen

Sixteen flag poles have been erected in Civic Park in downtown Granite City. The flags that will be flown on these poles depict the different nationalities of the immigrants who settled in the area.

The flags will be flown in good weather, year round.

These poles and flags are this year's gift from the International Festival. Similar beautification projects will be given to the city each year that the International Festival is held.

By Amanda Crabtree and Ron Rinehart

From across the pond, during their own Renaissance, the Italians were guided by a hope to a brave new world, named for one of their own, Amerigo Vespucci. Today, the Italian-American culture is an integral part of the modern Renaissance.

During the 15th Century, the "Boot" served as the foundation of Western Civilization. Italian migrants were some of the first colonists to tame the "wild land" and establish a new ecclesiastical civilization. Serving as soldiers for the cause of American freedom and justice, many Italians were willing to give their lives in the War for Independence and in preserving the Union during the Civil War.

The land whose streets were "paved with gold" presented a doorway for many poor Italians and Sicilians to seize the opportunity which they never had elsewhere. The era of mass migration began around the end of the 19th Century. Having an ethnic

International Festival holds a golf tournament at Legacy

By Lisa Dillard

The International Festival Celebrity Golf Tournament will be held on May 2, 1996 at The Legacy Golf Course in Granite City/Pontoon Beach. Openings may still be available by contacting John Greco, Golf Tourney Chairman, at 876-5003.

This fund raising event will feature Jay Randolph, local radio talk show host, and former Blues player Bernie Ferderko. The Ram's cheerleaders will also be featured guests. These are a few of the celebrities scheduled to participate in the four-person scramble tournament.

The $260 per team entry fee covers green fees and cart, luncheon, which includes draft beer and soda at the Clubhouse, burgers, brats, and Italian sausage before and during play, hats and crying towels, and cash prizes for four flights. There is also to be food afterwards, during prize distribution.

There will be cash prizes for a man and a woman with the tee shot closest to the pin on a par three hole; and with the longest drive on a par five. A skins game and a $10,000 hole-in-one, as well as other specialty holes, will be played, such as closest to the pin contest, longest drive contest, and more hole-in-one giveaways.

Cookbooks at various locations

By Amanda Crabtree

The International Festival cookbooks will be available for purchase at Jessica's Cottage, Central Bank on Nameoki Road, Magna Bank (downtown), 1st Bank (downtown), City Hall, Granite City Headquarters at Bellemore Village, and the Granite City Library downtown.

population of 13%, the Italians were the second largest immigrant group by the year 1940.

Local historian and author, Georgia Engelke, concentrated her efforts this winter on an Ethnic Cookbook. It contains 170 pages and 10 photos, and is now on sale for $10.

Library will participate in International Festival

By Tiffany L. Austin

The Granite City Public Library will be participating in the International Festival on May 3-5.

Tours of the library will be given on all three days. These tours will be an open house for the library. Copies of the International Cookbook will be available at the open house.

Various craft projects for children will take place at the Festival site. Storytelling and puppet shows will also be available to entertain children.

The library will use their activities at the International Festival to publicize Summer Youth Programs that will be offered.

Mrs. Donna Asbeck of the Granite City Public Library is in charge of all activities.

Honorees return as Marshals of International Festival parade

By Marcie Noud

Parade marshalls for the International Festival Parade are Andy Phillip and Ruben Mendoza. The parade will be held on May 3, 1996 at 6:30 p.m.

Ruben Mendoza learned to play soccer as a child in Mexico. He then came to Granite City when he was 16 suffered from a major knee injury and couldn't play anymore.

After the injury, he wasn't ready to give up the sport so instead of playing he decided to advance the sport to the Granite City area. Mendoza started a soccer program for young boys to learn to play. He is now known as the father of soccer in Granite City.

Andy Phillip, the other parade marshall, captained the Warrior State Basketball team in 1939. At age 14, Andy signed a professional baseball contract with the St. Louis Cardinals. He attended the University of Illinois where he was named athlete of the year and led U of I to 2 conference basketball championships and an undefeated season in 1943.

His basketball career was interrupted by World War II where he served three years as Field Artillery Officer and Unit Commander in the battle of Iwo Jima. After service in the military, Andy returned to U of I and was selected All American. In 1952, he was selected Most Outstanding NBA player by the Philadelphia Basketball Writers Association.

Through the years, Andy Phillip was known as a famous baseball player, or perhaps as a famous basketball player. Now, throughout the United States, Andy's name is found in the Helms Athletic Foundation Basketball Hall of Fame in Los Angeles, CA, the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, MA, and in the Illinois Sports Hall of Fame in Granite City, IL.

years old. All he wanted to do was play soccer. In the '50s, Mendoza played as a member of the Kurtis team in St. Louis. He was a member of the United States World Cup team in '54 and '58, he also played on the Olympic tryout squad in '52, '56, and '60. Late in his soccer career, in the 60's, Mendoza

Festival sponsors a Bike Ramble

By Patrick Mullen

The International Festival is sponsoring a Bike Ramble as part of the festival weekend. The Ramble will be held on Saturday, May 4, the third day of the festival, and will start at 9:30 a.m.

There will be two routes over which participants may ride. Route One is approximately three miles in length, while Route Two is about seven miles long. Both options take riders in a circular tour, beginning and ending at the staging area of the festival, which is located at the open lot at 19th Street and Delmar.

Upon returning from the bike ride, the festival will be under way, and a rack will be available to secure all bicycles so the riders will be able to stay and enjoy the various activities.

Registration for the Bike Ramble is free to all those interested. Children under 14 must be accompanied by an adult. Attendance prizes will be drawn from the names of official registrants and announced later at the festival stage. Registration for the Ramble will be accepted the day of the event, but those wanting to register ahead of time may do so by sending an individual 3 X 5 card with name and address to:

International Festival
Bike Ramble
P.O. Box 523

Festival has everything good from shirts to cups

By Wade Brady

Along with all festivals and fairs come merchandise. At the International Festival this is no exception. Available for every member of the family are T-shirts in sizes ranging from medium to 4X large, at $10-$14. This year's color scheme is gray with teal lettering. Also available will be a 16-oz. beverage cup for $2, with $1 refills. T-shirts are available and sponsored by Always Available, and cups by Vescei Inc. of Granite City.

A tent will be set up next to State Street where shirts and cups are available. Cups will also be sold (with drinks) at the beer stand.

Crying towels and ball caps come with a paid entry to the First Annual International Festival Golf Tournament.

Events Schedule

The International Festival will take place from Friday, May 3 through Sunday, May 5. The Festival Committee has scheduled numerous and varied events for the weekend. The following is a tentative schedule of events. Specific times will be posted at the Centennial Stage.

GCHS students do work with Journal as part of the International Festival

By Danielle Stern

This special insert on the International Festival was written and edited by the advanced journalism class at Granite City High School. Members of the class are as follows: Tiffany Austin, Wade Brady, Amanda greatly to this insert as well. Not only did he spend endless hours aiding his students, he also created the logo for the Festival. Mr. Betancourt donated the logo to be used for the Festival in years to come.

Antique Macedonian/Bulgarian folk costumes to be displayed during International Festival

By Trisha Sumpter

The accumulation of Macedonian/Bulgarian clothing has now reached museum proportions in the hands of local resident Marvin Moehle, Jr.

Clothing from his private collection will be displayed on the Centennial stage with models. He is also the founder and director of the Macedonian Kosturceni Folklore Troupe. Some of his collection will be available for viewing at the International Festival.

Moehle has traveled extensively in the Balkans, collecting folk costumes, artifacts, and antique jewelry. Additionally, his interests have included learning and documenting the oral history and music of the regions he has visited on four separate occasions. Many local and foreign citizens have aided in these endeavors. He has been able to add photographs, both new and antique, books, recordings and, more recently, video tapes.

At present, Moehle is working on a book, loosely titled Village Smurdesh, Kosturceni and the Regional Costumes of Kosturceni and Lerinsko, Macedonia.

Moehle also has a special interest, he said, in the minority groups of the Macedonian region, such as Vlachs, Pomaks, and others.

Most of the items in his collection are from the 18th and early 19th centuries. He is always ready to discuss his favorite subject; and is often invited to give talks and show examples of folk costumes.

One of the more unique features of the Macedonian clothing is that it is hand made and individualized. Though there are similarities among his examples, the various differences make for interesting puzzles in discovering the exact village or region that produced them.

In most instances, the thread that made up the cloth was spun by hand and woven on a loom. The cloth was then cut, sewn and embroidered by the person who would wear the attire.

The clothes in the collection are complete with jewelry and are as rare as museum pieces.

Marvin has been able to enrich his collection many of the pieces in his collection. He said he hopes to someday open a museum, so everyone can share the rich heritage of the Macedonian/Bulgarian immigrants who settled in the Granite City area.

This costume is from Smilevo, Macedonia. It was made and worn in the photograph by Tasa Georgieff who came to Granite City to live. The costume is now part of Marvin Moehle's collection.

Buddy Mullins, Mark Willet, Westly Willet, Joel Huggins, and Paul Lancaster make up the Christian group "Mullins & Co." who will be performing on the Centennial Stage prior to the closing ceremonies on Sunday evening, May 5.

Mullins & Co. perform on Stage

By Tabitha Soechtig

Mullins & Co., one of the many entertainers, will be performing at the International Festival. They will make their local debut in Granite City. They will also be the final entertainers on the Centennial Stage, Sunday, May 5, starting at 5 p.m.

Different groups of singers have tried to make it in the "Real World", but one that is doing an excellent job so far is Mullins & Co. Each of these songwriters, accomplished instrumentalists and vocalists make up this adult contemporary/pop Christian group: Mark Willet, keyboard, Westly Willet, bass guitar, Joel Huggins, lead guitar, and another guitarist Buddy Mullins, sings lead with Paul Lancaster.

Mullins & Co. recently introduced their newest project, an adult contemporary/pop offering entitled "All The Right Doors". Executives and staff of Word Records responded so strongly to the new music that they removed the Canaan label from Mullins & Co.'s "All the Right Doors", and applied the Word label logo, which includes the corporation's endorsement of the move.

"On this album we got to take off the masks and be who we really are," said Buddy, one of the founding members. "We just took a step of faith, praying the Lord would bless it and He really has. That's the reason for the title of the project. God has been opening all the right doors."

"Personally, contemporary Christian music speaks to me where I am right now," explains Mullins. "I'm to the point in my Christian walk where I need more than just to talk about heaven and the cross. Those things are the most vital foundations of our faith, but in this day and age we need to do more than just get people to stand up and run the aisles. I want us to leave something with them that will help them to live a Christian life. We all need to hear things that will help us make it through the day."

As Mullins & Co. tour the country with their new project, they have definite goals in mind. With this in mind their group surely will go far.

Polish create organizations in area

By Marcie Noud

The early 1870's marked the beginning of the mass immigration of Poles to the United States, where they settled in various cities throughout the country. About 1870, the Polish settlers in the United States numbered a little over 50,000, scattered throughout the larger cities of the country. These Polish settlers built Catholic churches and organized social and benevolent societies for the purpose of assisting the local parishes in their growth and expansion, and also for the welfare of their fellow men.

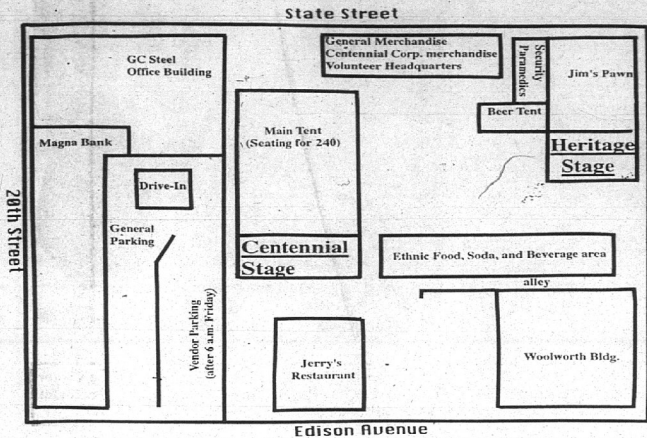

These activities, in general, centered around the Polish parishes. Father Gierzyk decided to bring this organizational project into being by making an appeal to the few existing weekly newspapers in the country. Calling upon the Poles in the different cities, he organized what is now the Polish Roman Catholic Union of America (PRUCA).

The beginning of the organization was difficult and progress was slow. The only purpose of the organization, at that time, was to teach Polish in 1935, St. Stanislaus Lodge purchased a hall at $26

They have performed at various nursing homes, church organizations, Chamber of Commerce, Eagles, State Fair, the International Folkfest (Queeney Park), and the lodge's function is its dance troupe. They perform in full traditional costumes.

Mexicans have strong affinity for GC

By Angela Vasquez

The Mexican Honorary Commission will be a major part of the International Festival, featuring their dancing, and festive comedia.

In 1926, the Mexican Honorary Commission was founded by Mexican forefathers who migrated to the Granite City area in the early 1900's. They started the commissions to help local Mexicans adapt, become more educated, build, and prosper in America, while still preserving their heritage and traditions.

The Commission is a non-profit organization chartered by the state of Illinois. The purpose of the commission is to preserve and honor the Mexican heritage in the community, encourage and aid education, sportsmanship, and the development of youth through scholarship funding, and to promote an active interest in good government and civic affairs, inspire respect for law and order, promote patriotism, and work for international peace and friendship among all peoples, regardless of race, color or creed.

There is a constitution by which the Mexican Honorary Commission is governed.

In 1801, the Criollos were stirred by the recent, successful Revolutionary War in the United States. On September 16, 1810, led by a Criollo priest, Father Miguel Hidalgo, the first blow was struck. With an ill-equipped army of 50,000, he marched toward the capital, but was stopped by forces loyal to the crown. Father Hidalgo and some of the Criollos escaped to Guadalajara but were later captured and tried. Hidalgo was stripped of his priestly office and, in July of 1811, was shot to death.

In 1824, Mexico was finally, after years of revolution, proclaimed a republic and given a constitution, patterned after the United States.

The Mexican people who have settled in Granite City are proud of their heritage and never fail to remember what their forefathers did.

Festival celebrates past

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

They came to this area 100 years ago — immigrants from all over the globe seeking good-paying jobs and a better life. Today, their children, grandchildren and great grandchildren enjoy the benefits of a modern society. But this generation has not forgotten the rich cultural heritage of the past.

Lincoln Place, The Mexican Honorary Commission, Hungary Hollow, Cionko's Market and St. Gregory's Armenian Hall — Granite City remains rich in cultural diversity. It is a virtual melting pot of cultures — from Mexico to Poland, from Italy and France to Macedonia, Bulgaria and Hungary.

And to celebrate that rich heritage, the first-ever International Festival has been planned for May 2-5 in downtown Granite City. Organizers hope the event will become an annual fixture in the Tri-Cities area.

Sharon VanMeter Hufford came up with the idea for an international festival when working with the Granite City Centennial Committee.

"I just thought it would be a great idea for this city to have a recurring international festival," Hufford said. "And what better time to kick it off than in the centennial year?"

The festival kicks off Thursday, May 2 with a celebrity golf tournament at the Legacy. A VIP Party is planned at the main festival site — the Magna Bank parking lot downtown — following the tournament.

A parade from Granite City High School, down Madison Avenue to the festival site is slated to begin at 6 p.m. Friday, May 3. Former professional basketball star Andy Phillip and former Olympic soccer player Ruben Mendoza have been named parade marshals. The parade will feature different organized ethnic and social groups from the city, an honor guard from the Charles Melvin Price U.S. Army Support Center and military vehicles from the St. Louis Army Museum, based at the Price Center.

The Macedonian/Bulgarian Ladies Aid Society of the Holy Trinity Church, in Madison, founded 1925, will be participating in the International Festival and furnishing refreshments. Front row: Sophi Kiper, Mary Baron, Tomea Kirchoff, Maria Natsleff, and Blaga Stamboldj. Back row: Dorothy Kalcheff, Vickie Mayer, Eve Loman, Alexandria Draganich, Mary Gages, Queeny Elieff, Ann Petroff, and Mary Pretroff.

Industry built Granite City nearly 100 brief years ago

Among the German immigrants who came to St. Louis in the 1850's were the Niedringhaus brothers, Frederick G., age 18, and William F., age 20, natives of Westphalia, Germany. They became tanners and earned $4 a week, selling their wares on the street. By 1857, the brothers had saved enough money to open their own business. They had to cut the tinware by hand and solder it together. After learning about a new French machine, which stamped out kitchen utensils from a single sheet of tin, the brothers imported the equipment and a workman to operate it. The business thrived and, in 1866, they incorporated as the St. Louis Stamping Works. William became exhausted from overwork. In 1865 his doctor told him to take a rest, travel to Europe, and forget business.

In a store window, in a small village in Germany, William saw kitchen utensils that were coated with a glossy, white element. For $5,000, William was able to purchase the process of making graniteware. He lost no time returning to St. Louis, where his first piece of graniteware was made on April 10, 1874, using ground granite as the basic material. They patented their process and the enameling business became one of the major industries in the United States.

Until 1877, the St. Louis Stamping Company imported sheet iron, used in the production of graniteware, from Wales. After the mill in Wales was destroyed by fire, the brothers constructed the Granite Iron Rolling Mills in 1878 and made their own sheet iron. Workmen were imported from Wales to operate the mill. Granite City Steel Company traces its history back to 1878, when those mills were opened in St. Louis.

However, their steel industry had problems competing with cheap tin plate imported from England.

As a result, Frederick decided to become active in politics. He was elected as a United States Representative from Missouri. He served on the House Ways and Means Committee, and favored high tariffs to protect smaller industries. The McKinley Tariff Bill of 1890 was passed by Congress, and the duty on tin plate was raised from $22.40 to $49.28 a ton. Two months after this bill was passed, the Granite Iron Rolling Mills in St. Louis began to produce tin plate.

With this legislation in place, the brothers had a tremendous increase in business. Because there was such a demand for tin plate, they decided to buy cheap land near St. Louis and develop a city.

National City dissolution?

Baricevic planning to seek special census as first step

St. Clair County Board Chairman John Baricevic announced Monday he plans to seek a special census for National City as the first step in forcing the dissolution of the village.

Baricevic will take the special census request to the April 29 county board meeting.

According to state statute, cities and villages falling below a population of 50 are subject to involuntary dissolution through action of the respective county board and circuit court.

Baricevic said the action is necessary to counter the long-term problems in National City, as well as recent actions by the village board.

"National City has one of the largest property tax rates in Illinois, making it difficult to attract industry in an area that could attract new jobs like a magnet," Baricevic said.

"But recent actions by the village board show that village leaders are not leading and lack concern for most of the current residents."

Baricevic said he and Will McGaughey, who represents the National City area on the county board, are dismayed at actions taken by the board at its April 15 village board meeting.

Baricevic noted these actions included: a vote to reopen a controversial landfill proposal by the Piolet Brothers, who operate an auto shredder in the area; and a vote to allow one exclusive adult cabaret license to be issued to Ed Vollmer.

Baricevic and McGaughey stated their disbelief over the village board's process used to approve the adult cabaret license April 15. Minutes from that meeting revealed that Vollmer asked the village to grant him a license and he offered a check in the amount of $25,000 to be paid that evening to the village.

The village board then approved an ordinance creating a new liquor license for Vollmer with the following conditions, all of which were sought by the applicant: annual fee $20,000, term to be 20 years, hours of operation shall be from 10 a.m. to 6 a.m., seven days per week and that only one license shall be issued, Baricevic said.

"This action appears to violate county zoning and that area does not need yet another topless bar and its allied businesses that will only drive out legitimate industry and make economic development more difficult," Baricevic said.

Baricevic said he has referred the alleged zoning violation to States Attorney Bob Haida.

New plan for food provider licensing

A Madison County Board committee has a new recipe for licensing food providers.

The Health Department Committee approved a revised food sanitation proposal Monday that would not require nonprofit organizations to pay permit fees unless they hold liquor licenses or have state sales tax numbers.

Earlier, the committee had planned to exempt all nonprofit organizations from fees.

"What we're doing is bringing back the not-for-profit organizations that are really in business," Assistant State's Attorney Michele Berkel said.

"If you have a sales tax number, you're a business. If you have a liquor license, you're a business."

Health Department Committee Chairman Harold Byers said some organizations have food operations that are larger than many for-profit restaurants. The organizations make many contributions to the community, but for-profit restaurants provide jobs, pay taxes and make their own contributions to community betterment, he said.

"I think it is only fair to do it this way. If they can afford a liquor license, they can afford a food license," Byers said.

Organizations that take out a temporary liquor license for an event of up to a few days' duration would be exempted, Berkel said.

The committee also decided on a simplified fee schedule that will require most ongoing operations to pay $200 yearly.

Before the change, fees were to have been $225 or $150, depending on the type of operation.

Food providers offering only prepackaged food or beverages with limited on-site preparation would be charged $75, temporary food establishments (open for two to 14 days) would pay $25 and permits for one-day events would be free.

Board member Rick Faccin of Alton lobbied for a top fee of $150, but Health Department Administrator Donald Brannon said that at that rate revenues would fall an estimated $73,000 short of inspection costs yearly. Committee members wanted fees to offset costs of inspection and Byers said a single $200 fee probably will do that.

The proposed ordinance would require countywide inspection and licensing of food providers for the first time. It goes to the full County Board for expected action at a special meeting May 1.

Wilson appoints Whitsell

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

Pontoon Beach Treasurer Lou Whitsell was appointed temporary comptroller Tuesday in a meeting rife with insults, accusations, escalating calls for ordinance violations and investigations by outside agencies, groans from the audience and a few questions about how to impeach village officials.

In January the village board voted to eliminate the treasurer's position and go to a full-time comptroller beginning May 1.

However, the board has not set specifications or a salary for the job, and at Tuesday's meeting Mayor Glen Wilson appointed Whitsell to the job temporarily. Whitsell, a former village trustee and clerk, was appointed temporary treasurer in November after the abrupt resignation of Treasurer Judy Donaldson.

Trustee Mike Macek pointed out during discussion that because the village has not set a salary, Whitsell would be working without pay.

In making the appointment, Wilson said Whitsell "took over under extremely adverse circumstances. The former treasurer failed to keep the books properly and failed to pay the Internal Revenue Service, causing penalties and interest, which are still undetermined."

He also said that without the appointment there would be nobody to keep the village's books or issue checks.

Trustee Gus Falter, head of the finance committee, said he had been preparing job specifications but wanted to discuss them with Village Attorney Keith Jensen, who had been unavailable.

After Wilson made the appointment, Macek motioned to hire ADP, an outside firm, to handle the village payroll on a temporary basis at a cost of $49 per pay period.

There was considerable debate on the subject.

"It's a waste of taxpayers' money just for a vendetta; that's just what it is," Whitsell said.

Trustee Bob Abel questioned the need for a comptroller, saying eliminating the treasurer's position was "stupid."

Trustee Bob Vincent said someone would have to deal with the village's bookkeeping. "If it's cut and dried payroll, that would be one thing, but it's not," he said.

Jensen said the village could contract any service it wanted, but would also have to consider who would handle money coming into the village.

After Macek suggested auditor Dan Donohoe handle bookkeeping, Abel motioned to table the proposal, which will now have to be considered at the next board meeting.

Macek and Vincent then began arguing. "You brought the treasurer back after the mayor fired her," Vincent said of Donaldson. "You guys brought her back knowing we owed the federal government."

Macek said he did not "know" that.

"We still don't know what we owe, if we owe them anything or if we've got a refund coming," he said.

Macek then asked Whitsell if he received village mail at his house, and then asked Jensen to prepare an ordinance violation against Whitsell.

Vincent then asked that similar action be taken against Donaldson because she kept village records at home.

"I agree and at the same time I'd like to make a motion to investigate the previous clerk's office by an outside agency," Macek said. "Let's get it all out."

Vincent responded by asking for an outside agency to investigate the previous treasurer.

"If it's going to be a joke, it might as well be full blown," he said.

Arguments continued, with Wilson accusing Macek and other trustees of not caring.

"You've got one member and three puppets," Wilson said, referring to trustees Falter, Randy Presswood and Irene Karlechik.

Karlechik then said she resented Wilson's remark. During the arguments there was considerable comment and groaning by the audience, and after the meeting someone asked Jensen how to impeach a village official.

Jensen said he didn't think it could be done.

Mutual funds have opened up new investment chances

This is the second article of a series about mutual funds.

Mutual funds will continue to remain popular because they are convenient and efficient investment vehicles that give all individuals, even those with small sums to invest, access to a wide array of opportunities.

Mutual funds allow you to participate in stock and bond markets that might otherwise demand too much time, expertise or capital to be worthwhile.

Mutual funds have opened up a world of fixed-income investing to people who not too many years ago had few choices other than passport accounts and savings bonds. The beauty of mutual funds is that once you decide upon the kind of investment desired, there are several funds that can fulfill that criterion.

As an example, someone who needs current income would be attracted to bond funds. A person seeking a long-term investment would look toward growth funds.

What has just been mentioned are the "categories" of mutual funds available today.

Other categories include: aggressive growth, balanced, corporate bond, government bond, growth, growth and income, high-yield, international equities, money market, municipal bond and utilities.

Now, this may all seem a bit intimidating, but you should look at the big picture when deciding upon the fund that is right for you. If you have a system for picking the appropriate category, this process will become much easier.

Brian Mulhall

The first question you should ask yourself in this process is "When will I need this money?"

I, personally, do not recommend having money in growth if you plan on spending it in the next two years. The shorter the time frame, the greater the need for fixed, guaranteed investments. On the other hand, the longer the time frame, the more growth-oriented you should be invested.

The conservative investor may say that the stock market (growth) is too risky. True, the day-to-day volatility of equities can be quite frustrating. However, it is also true that the long-term effects of inflation and the loss of purchasing power of a fixed income are even more devastating.

In the case of inflation, what do you think are the chances that the cost of goods and services will go down during the next three, five or 10 years? Not likely. What do you think are the chances that the stock market will go higher in the next three, five or 10 years? Very likely.

Next, you need to define your risk tolerance. No investment is worthwhile if you stay awake at night worrying about it. Do you invest for the long-term or is the final result at the end of the day more important? How important is current income from your portfolio? If you are gainfully employed and plan to be for some time, then receiving income from your mutual fund is not very important and you should seek growth.

What is the amount of loss you are willing to accept on paper?

If being down 10 percent on paper is in no way tolerable for you, then you should avoid the international and aggressive growth categories. These funds can fluctuate wildly from month to month.

However, they have been the strongest performers over the past few decades, and so, with some additional risk has come additional rewards for those investors.

How important is it that your mutual fund beats the inflation rate over the long-term? If that is important, then seek more growth and avoid money market or bond funds. Spreading your fund selection over several categories is another wise move. Pick three or four categories and divide your selections into three or four different mutual funds. This is called diversification and helps you avoid being so dependent on one category. That way you stand a better chance of being in the right category at the right time.

For example, a person seeking growth could put 60 percent in growth, 30 percent in aggressive growth and 10 percent in international.

Attends session on treating depression

Dr. M. Jamil attended a medical seminar entitled "Clinical Controversies in Treating Depression" held March 10 at the Ritz Carlton Hotel in St. Louis.

The program was supported by an unrestricted educational grant from Eli Lilly and Co. The program was designed to educate primary care physicians, psychiatrists, and other practicing physicians regarding understanding, diagnosis, and treatment of depression. New treatment risks of drug interaction were discussed. Dr. Jamil has offices in Madison and Lebanon.

Transit district supporting RideFinders program

By Scott Cousins
 Staff writer

A resolution continuing the Madison County Transit District's support of the RideFinders program was approved at a board meeting Thursday. The resolution authorizes the extension of contracts relating to the program, which is the St. Louis region's clearinghouse for car and van pools. RideFinders is administered by the transit district. It was set up in February 1994 to help reduce vehicle emissions in the St. Louis region. In Illinois, the program serves Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties. In Missouri, it serves Franklin, Jefferson, St. Charles and St. Louis counties, including the city of St. Louis.

RideFinders is funded primarily through the Federal Highway Administration's Congestion Mitigation and Air Quality Improvement Funds. District Manager Jerry Kane said the state has agreed to provide $400,000 in additional funding for the coming year. He said the law providing federal funding for the program lapses in September.

Jane Smith, program manager for RideFinders, said they have funding through the end of the 1997 fiscal year.

"We would like it to continue for many years," Kane said of the program. "It has probably been the most effective ride-share program in the St. Louis area."

In other business the transit district approved a motion to authorize the Bi-State Development Agency to operate the Muni Express during the 1996 summer season.

The service will run on Fridays June 21 and 28, July 12, 19 and 26, and Aug. 2 and 9.

Are you at your breaking point?

Do you experience the symptoms of anxiety?

- Anxiety attacks • Persistent senseless thoughts • Sleeplessness • Phobias
- Unexplained heart palpitations • Problems with concentration • Restlessness
- Excessive worrying • Uncomfortable in social situations • Feeling keyed up

Anxiety disorders, America's most common mental health problem, are treatable illnesses. They do not have to rule your life. Help is available.

That's why the professionals at Memorial Hospital are offering a free, confidential anxiety disorders screening as part of National Disorders Screening Day.

Ruth Circle holds meeting

The Ruth Circle meeting was held in the home of Helen Stumpe, who opened the meeting with the Christian Women's Fellowship Prayer, along with prayers and concerns. Sharon Calaway read the minutes and correspondence and announced coming events. On May 2, "Ladies' Night Out," a social event for the ladies of the Christian Women's Fellowship, will be held at Central Christian Church. Tickets for the supper can be purchased from Jo Stephens or Nancy Connolly, chairmen.

On Friday, May 3, "May Fellowship," a Church Women United international celebration and luncheon, will be held at 11:30 a.m. at the Salvation Army.

An election was held for next year's officers of the Ruth Circle. They are as follows: Helen Stumpe, circle leader; Sharon Calaway, secretary and treasurer; Geneva Butler, study and worship; Lynda Leggett, sunshine; Betty Ebrecht, service; and Isabelle Ferguson, membership.

The remainder of the evening was spent filling health kits to be sent to Church World Service. Betty Ebrecht, service chairman, and Doris Edwards dedicated the kits.

Helen Stumpe served refreshments to Geneva Butler, Lynda Leggett, Betty Ebrecht, Isabelle Ferguson, Sharon Calaway, Doris Edwards and two guests, Lena Seitzer, Christian Women's Fellowship general president, and Jewell Monogue.

The next regular meeting will be held May 16 in the home of Lois Bilbrey.

Organizations

District 9 Retired Office Personnel

The Granite City School District 9 Retired Office Personnel held its April meeting at the Colonial Cupboard in Edwardsville.

Those attending were Dorothy Lerner, June Schneider, Marcella Pilcher, Arlene Halteman, Lucie Stucke, Frieda Andrews, Harriet Mercer, Dorothy Luckert, Millie Chandler and Lucille Caban.

The hostess for May will be Caban, who is making reservations at the Picnic Basket in Alton.

Willing Workers of America

The reunion committee of the Willing Workers of America have completed plans for its 16th reunion of former A.O. Smith Corporation employees.

The event will be held from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday, May 4, at the Knights of Columbus Hall, Pinta Room, 4225 Old Alton Road in Granite City. Breakfast will be served at 9 a.m. There is no cost to attend. Attendance prizes will be awarded.

Please call in your reservations to Steve Ortiz at 451-0068 by May 2.

Old Six Mile

William Donovan, the work manager at American Steel, will talk about the history of American Steel at the Old Six Mile Historical Society's meeting, to be held at 7 p.m. Monday, May 6, at Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road in Granite City. The public is invited to attend.

Refreshments will be served. Attendance prizes will be awarded. Call 931-1352 for more information.

Moose Lodge 272

The Granite City Moose Lodge 272 held its biannual luncheon and dance March 23 for various homes and organizations for the mentally handicapped in the Metro East area.

Those participating were the Organizational for the Advancement of the Handicapped (OATH) in Madison, Lewis and Clark Home in Pontoon Beach, Lynn Haven Home in Pontoon Beach and two homes from the Alton Bluffs in Alton.

The group expressed its gratitude to the many members who helped prepare and host the luncheon, the staff of the participating homes and the clients for attending.

Knights of Columbus

On April 19, Sir Knight James DeFuntz, faithful navigator, and Brother Rudy Hofek presented $3,000 in checks to Alicia Poetker, principal of St. Elizabeth School, and Sister Angeline, principal of Holy Family School. The money will be used to purchase computers for their classes.

Cheryl Crawford

Insurance Agent
Crawford Agency

Starting her business in 1981, Cheryl celebrates her fifteenth year providing insurance coverage for the Granite City area. "I'd like to take this opportunity to say thanks to all my clients, friends and family. Many of them have been with me the entire fifteen years! Cheryl credits her success to her supportive family as well as her loyal clients. My brother and sister-in-law were my very first clients. Betty called me the very morning I opened my office asking me if I had written a policy yet. When I replied, "no" she said, "We'll be right down!" My family has always been wonderful, especially my daughter, Carl, who often went with me to sales appointments. She had to spend a lot of time at the office when I first began. There were even a few occasions when she answered the telephone and took a message when I was busy with a customer. She did great on the phone, however, interpreting her handwritten message was another matter. She was only seven years old!" Cheryl is a member of the Tri-City Area Chamber of Commerce and has been active in Community activities.

Prior to her career as an officer of the Granite City Board of Realtors for 6 years. She was selected "REALTOR OF THE YEAR" in 1995.

Lisa Fanning

Granite City, IL

An education is one of the most important goals we can ever set for ourselves, and it is one of those goals that is never too late to attain, no matter what your age is. I went back to College to get my education when I was in my mid-thirties, with a concentration in Labor Relations. I have now worked for Local 67 of the United Steelworkers of America for over five (5) years. My job, which I truly enjoy, has afforded me opportunities that I may have not otherwise been given. I am a Past President of the Granite City Business and Professional Women and have served on many State Committees for BPW. I am currently the Community Services Chairman for Local 67, and am very active on the Local's Political Action Committee. I serve on the Tri-Cities Area United Way Board of Directors and am active with the Granite City Centennial celebration. Education and involvement is the key to success. These are the two elements that get us to where we want to be in the end.

Kathleen Clark

Kathy has been with Spectrulite Consortium, Inc., an aluminum and magnesium casting facility, since February, 1995, as Manager, Human Resources. Prior to joining Spectrulite, she worked for fifteen years in a manufacturing facility, with ten of those years in various human resource positions. Kathy is a graduate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville with a Bachelor's degree in psychology. She also has a Masters of Business Administration from Webster University.

Much of Kathy's "spare" time is spent doing volunteer work. She is a Board Member for the Coordinated Youth and Human Services Agency, and for the Tri-Cities Area United Way. She has been a member of the Granite City Business & Professional Women since 1985; this year, Kathy will be elected as President of the local organization. She also serves on the Executive Boards of the Gateway Chapter of the Industrial Relations Research Association and the Labor/Management Committee of the Leadership Council of Southwestern Illinois.

Kathy has been married to husband, Terry Clark for 16 years, and they have a 15 year old son, Jeffrey.

Horoscope

Sunday, April 28
Neptune, that devilish planet that produces illusions as well as brilliant insights, starts moving retrograde today. That means that industries associated with this planet (such as medical fields, technology, oil, the movies and retail) will now find grand success with past projects that may have been forgotten. Former employees are rehired. The best of luck goes to those in show business. ARIES (March 21-April 19). If you must settle old scores, do it now. People who are guilty express their regrets. Everybody wins when you forget past traditions and begin new ones with your family. Money comes from relatives. TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Money misread your mood. Be very clear. Trying to change to please another is a waste of time. Hide your self-doubts — you can be extraordinarily convincing now. Home-improvement projects are a big success. GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Reach out to people you knew years ago. You may overreact to a simple mistake. Fresh ideas, environments and people make you more realistic. Partners offer commitments — make sure these words are backed by actions. CANCER (June 22-July 22). Making promises to another encourages you to do what you'd want to do anyway. Focus on one problem at a time. Renew lagging friendships — you need support systems. Singles find potential new loves. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Events culminate suddenly — prepare now. You've underpriced yourself in business and undervalued yourself in love. Linking your fate with another seems lucky but isn't. Rent reductions come if you ask now. TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (April 28). Independence is essential for your spirit to soar. Security comes from investments and new businesses in August. Pursue a creative venture that's a gold mine. Promotions come in September if you show confidence. In November, love a Gemini or Leo. Marriage is best in February. Move now or in December. Windfalls arrive in May and September. You'll have luck with contests in October. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Show individual style — don't be a copycat. Love strikes when you're yourself. Outdoor activities convince you to do more exercising or keep physically fit. You can now reconcile with an estranged relative. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Why gild your life? You are perfect as you are. Stop polishing ideas, and present them. A disconcerting message is not worth worrying about. Watch out that jealousy doesn't erupt because you play favorites. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Dare to live out your dreams.

— that means you must make changes. Forget talk, and just act. Cancel appointments that prevent you from seeing family. In-laws, an ex and cousins bring you financial opportunities. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Trial separations work on your behalf. You amaze others with your problem-solving methods. Challenge your old beliefs. A former love returns but in a new role. Organize new groups — use your leadership skills. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). You are far more popular than you realize. People want to help you, so ask. Financial renewal is possible, but you first must concentrate on one project. Sideline businesses take off. A love affair is the real thing. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). You are trying to please too many people. Straddle the difference in a custody, money or land dispute. Delays anger you, but use this time for further preparation. Reject a ludicrous request from your lover. PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Major repair work is needed to restore family harmony. Cancel plans that interfere with your responsibilities. Sacrifices are appreciated. A romantic stalemate makes you defensive. Don't overuse credit cards.

South Seven Conference adds soccer

Spring cleaning of overflowing items... Soccer continues to expand. Now it's the South Seven Conference which has added soccer as a conference sport starting with the boys season in the fall and the girls in the spring of 1997.

Five schools competing in boys soccer will be Cahokia, Carbondale, Centralia, Marion and O'Fallon. The girls will play a four-team league schedule since Centralia has not added the sport as yet.

Soccer also expands in the Southwestern Conference this year (a fact mentioned here previously) but do not look for East Saint Louis Senior High to provide the sport. Lincoln and Edwardsville will, as a result of an agreement related to entering the SWC.

Mention of East Side reminds me of my prediction that varsity football coach Edmund Jones, who replaced Bob Shannon early in the 1995 season, will be out as the Flyers' boss.

In May, longtime East Side assistant Terry Hill will get the Flyers post — a matter most pleasing to the assistant coaches who did not adjust well to Jones after years of success with Shannon.

Of course, even if Jones had taken the Flyers past the state playoff quarterfinals, some fans would not have been satisfied.

OVERTIME: East Side Athletic Director Art May was among the persons attending a recent tribute to James "Barney" Davis, the former mayor of Brookline, who has faced health problems with courage and dignity.

May recalled Davis as being instrumental in not only forming a highly recognized men's baseball team — the Brookline Robins — but in holding the Tandy League together when financial problems struck the predominantly Negro league.

A member of the Mon-Clair League Hall of Fame, Davis, now 79, devoted nearly 50 years to men's amateur baseball.

Among his proteges is Vernell Jackson, veteran Belleville City League fastpitch softball umpire, who played professional baseball for the Memphis Red Sox in the 1950s.

During a minor league stint as a pitcher in the Minnesota Twins organization, Blackledge roomed with Rod Carew, the Hall of Famer whose daughter Michelle died recently of leukemia.

EXTRA INNINGS: When it comes to community service, I wonder how many people could do as much as the late Harvey Kohlenberger did for Millstadt.

Harvey died at age 81 on April 15 and among other things was a member of the Millstadt Commercial Club, Millstadt Volunteer Fire Department, Golden Age Club of Millstadt and Millstadt Horseshoe League.

The organizer of the MHL, he also was a member of the Illinois Horseshoe Pitching Hall of Fame. My sympathy to his wife, Eudalia (nee Schifferdecker), and family.

NET NOTE: This scribe, at times, has made mention that Belleville East softball coach Rita Menke and myself are graduates of St. Joseph's College in Rensselaer, Ind.

However, Rita and I were surprised to hear of a Great Lakes Valley Conference reprieve given the St. Joe's men's basketball coach (Bill Bland) and Southern Indiana coach Bruce Pearl last season. Pearl claims St. Joe's plays dirty.

"They give cheap shots," Pearl said after one of his players was undercut. Said Bland: "We don't play dirty. It's part of the game."

The reprimand came as a result of language and conduct exhibited by both coaches at a game in Evansville, Ind., the home of Southern Indiana.

Kickers exit tourney on upswing

Connie Meyers (16) and her GCHS teammates celebrate after one of her two second-half goals Thursday against Duchesne. The Lady Warriors improved to 8-3-2 with a 3-1 victory at Howell North.

GCHS tops Pioneers, ends pool play 1-1-1

By Rob Raphael
Staff writer

First of all, there was a terrible two-hour bus ride over to Howell North High School, caused by a major traffic jam Thursday. Secondly, Duchesne was given a penalty kick on a questionable call in the first half, giving the Pioneers a 1-0 lead.

But the Lady Warriors overcame the deficit in a spirited second half, as Duchesne, Granite City 14:10, wrapped up play in the fifth annual St. Dominic's Soccer Tournament with a 3-1 victory.

Duchesne won the final round of Pool C competition at Howell North, 1-1-1 in Pool C, after tying St. Joseph's Academy 1-1 on Wednesday.

Warriors look to bounce back in SWC stretch

By Rob Raphael
Staff writer

Although the schedule may have appeared to feature a couple of big games this week, that wasn't the case as far as the Warriors are concerned.

Sure, the Granite City baseball team wanted to beat Althoff on Wednesday, and Edwardsville Friday.

But with the second half of the conference schedule at hand, the nonconference games just don't stack up in comparison.

Granite City fell to 14-5 on the season with a 4-0 loss Wednesday at home to the Crusaders (7-8). The Warriors managed only two hits against Althoff pitching, and those came in the sixth and seventh innings.

Certainly, the Warriors aim to win every game they play. But this year, they've played their best against Southwestern Conference opponents. GCHS coach Gus Lignoul says the Warriors were just off stride against Althoff's P.J. Niebor.

"(Althoff) played a real good game," he said. "He had us off balance with his breaking pitches. We got out in front and pulled everything. I'm sure their shortstop had a lot of infield chances. You have to give credit to (Niebor)."

Justin Bettorf was the loser in the Althoff game, giving up four earned runs — more than in his previous four starts.

GCHS pitcher Mike Ahlvers fields a bunt during Wednesday's game against Althoff. The Warriors fell to 14-5 with the loss to the Crusaders.

East Invitational key test for GCHS netters

By Rob Raphael
Staff writer

Fresh off its victory over Collinsville last Wednesday, the Granite City tennis team was set to compete in the Belleville East Invitational over the weekend.

The Warriors were scheduled to begin the tournament Friday afternoon, with preliminary-round matches set to begin at 4 p.m.

Teams were hoping to play the entire tournament this year. Last year, the Warriors were having a very good tournament when rain washed out the entire singles competition on Saturday.

One doubles team finished second for GCHS, while another placed second in the consolation round.

But this year, the Warriors may have had a shot at a singles place winner in Joe Markel. Markel was a member of one of the teams that placed last year.

The action was scheduled to last until late Friday evening.

before resuming early Saturday morning.

Besides Granite City, Southwestern Conference teams Belleville East, Belleville West and Collinsville were scheduled to compete in the tournament.

Other Metro East teams in the field were O'Fallon, Althoff and Edwardsville.

Markel was scheduled to play the fourth match in the No. 1 singles bracket against Jon Miller of Rock Island in round one. Chris Carpenter was to face Campaign Central's Kevin Fruhlich in the No. 2 bracket.

Buddy Prazma was set to face West's Chris Carey at No. 3, and Tim Goskie was to face East's Dave Butz at No. 4.

Derrick Webb was to go up against Kyle Vallina of East at No. 5.

In doubles action, Markel and Carpenter were penciled in as the Warriors' team at No. 1, with Prazma and Goskie at No. 2 and Steve Graham and Scott Jackson at No. 3.

Knights' Langdon leading area at .595 clip

By Brian Bretsch
Staff writer

Imagine going 2-for-4 in a baseball game and having it actually hurt your average.

It almost sounds impossible. But it's true. Just ask Triad High senior Ryan Langdon, who leads the Metro East with nearly a .600 average in 12 games. He also is tops in the area with a .634 on-base percentage. In 42 at-bats, he has struck out only once.

It's Langdon's hitting prowess that has garnered him the Illinois Journal's Cardinal Club Athlete of the Week. Langdon collected two hits in four at-bats Wednesday in a 2-1 loss to Civic Memorial and his average actually dropped 10 points from .605 to .595.

Langdon has had a hit in all 12 of the Knights' games this season. He has nine straight multi-hit games and 22 runs batted in for Triad (9-3).

"I think half of my hits have been on first pitches," Langdon said. "I try not to think about (average). I didn't hit very well (Wednesday). It wasn't that good of a game for he had allowed in his previous four starts.

"Justin didn't have his good stuff that day," Lignoul said. "But he still has to learn to pitch on those days when he doesn't have it."

Lignoul was, however, encouraged by the pitching of Mike Ahlvers, who had been struggling lately.

"Ahlvers did a nice job, after we worked with him a lot in the past few days with mechanical problems," Lignoul said. "But his breaking ball looked a lot better."

Looking at Edwardsville, ranked No. 1 in the Journal poll, Lignoul said the game just didn't have the same level of importance that a conference game does.

"They're a fine baseball team, although I'm not sure they're the best team around," Lignoul said. "The main thing with this game is, the winner probably gets the No. 1 seed in the (regional), assuming we're paired together like we usually are."

"Most years, we have to play Edwardsville in the same week in which we have a couple of conference games. But we haven't had any conference games rained out, so we're getting them during a fairly easy week."

"I noticed Belleville West also caught them during the make-up week, and they beat (Edwardsville) earlier this week."

Lignoul said he planned to start Dustin Brower against Edwardsville, but added he was thinking of going with two or three different pitchers.

"We need to get some work in for these kids," he said. "This week our conference schedule starts again, and we'll need to be ready."

Of course, next year Edwardsville will be a part of the Southwestern Conference.

"Then, that game will be a big one," Lignoul said.

The Warriors have two SWC games scheduled this week. GCHS will play host to Alton on Tuesday and will visit Belleville East on Thursday.

On Wednesday, the Warriors are scheduled to play a non-conference game at home against Centralia.

Lady Warriors

Tuesday and dropping a 2-1 contest to Incarnate Word Academy on Wednesday.

The Lady Warriors (8-3-2 overall) took a 1-0 lead in the final pool game that they would not advance to the semifinals, which were scheduled to begin Saturday morning. Incarnate Word won Pool C and advanced to play Nerinx Hall at 9 a.m. while St. Dominic and Howell North squared off in the second semifinal match at 11 a.m.

"We were very pleased with (Thursday's) game," GCHS coach Gene Baker said. "We would have liked to have qualified, but as it turns out it wouldn't have mattered what we did today, so that penalty kick didn't mean anything. At that point in the first half, we were very upset."

Granite City finished in second place in pool play, and did not qualify for a wild-card spot in the semifinals.

But GCHS didn't know that in the first half Thursday, when the Pioneers were awarded a penalty kick after keeper Shannon Roth batted down a cross in the box. The official ruled that Roth did one of the Duchesne players.

Lindsey Rector converted the penalty kick, and Duchesne took a 1-0 lead at the 25:41 mark of the first half.

Although the Lady Warriors controlled their share of the play in the half, they were down 1-0 at intermission.

But GCHS completely dominated Duchesne in the second half, scoring three times.

"We thought that the penalty kick may be wasn't equitable, and we wanted to do something about that," Baker said. "But other than that, I said to them, 'We've got to start moving off the ball if we're going to score.'"

"Plus, when the wind was moving, there was an advantage going to (the south) goal, and we felt we could take advantage of that."

It was the Lady Warriors who did most of the moving in the second half, as they used their speed to beat the bigger Pioneers.

"We got some balls in the net, and against good competition, and that's a part of it," Baker said. "We're so young, and the size of these (Duchesne) girls... We looked like a junior varsity team out there. But we do have some speed, and we were able to take advantage of that out there. We're very pleased."

Izzy Mohsen got the equalizer for GCHS when she took a pass from Amanda Nizinski and fired a long, hard cross to the goal. The cross was actually a hard shot, and Duchesne keeper Dana Ruffhark couldn't hold on to the ball as GCHS tied it 1-1 at 55:17.

Eight minutes later, the Lady Warriors had their best sustained pressure of the game. After Tara Tomlinson smacked a shot off the crossbar, a wild scramble ensued in front of Ruffhark. Connie Meyers finally found a seam and put GCHS in front 2-1.

Then, with 15:33 left, Meyers scored her second goal of the day when she took a direct kick about 35 yards out from the goal. She sent a screaming low shot right on net, and again the Duchesne keeper mishandled the ball.

"Connie Meyers did a lot of good things out there, and was very strong on her shots. That long one she hit, she didn't get it where she wanted it, but it was a very heavy ball," Baker said.

"I thought Izzy showed a lot of pressure, and Tomlinson gave us a great lift. She responded to not getting the start and showed she belonged in there. And overall, our backfield was pretty stable. (Kristin) Knox got a bump on the knee, but she and Crystal Timmons were outstanding."

"And we got some good help off the bench. I thought Jamie Hendrickson came in and played real well, and Amber Hubert got a starting spot and did fine. We're just very pleased with the kids."

Reviews of the Lady Warriors from neutral observers were glowing. Several on hand said Granite City outplayed each of its three opponents at the tournament.

"This tournament will make you or break you," Baker said. "We beat a pretty decent team, and I was very proud of the girls. This is always such a strong tournament, and we were in a very competitive bracket, so really we feel good about what we accomplished."

me. When I think about hitting, nothing happens."

Triad baseball coach Tim Funkhouser said people have actually commented that Langdon must not have had a good game when he only collected two hits.

"It seems like when I figure out the stats, he goes 2-for-4 and some people will say Langdon didn't do that well, he only got two hits or he only had one double and two RBIs instead of four RBIs," Funkhouser said. "I've got to the point where I haven't even talked to him about hitting at all. I just let him go up there and hit."

"I really try to do that with the players that are really in a groove and continue to swing the bat well. Once they struggle, I usually will say something. Even though he might be doing a couple of things mechanically wrong he is still hitting the ball well, so we're not going to make any adjustments."

Funkhouser, who was surrounded by some great high school hitters during his playing days at Edwardsville High, said he's never seen a player continue to hit the ball as Langdon has.

"I have played with a lot of excellent players," Funkhouser said. "For this period of time we just played our 12th game (Wednesday) — he has hit well in every game. He's a clutch hitter. It's nice to have a player that is always getting on base and getting hits, but he is always driving players in."

"It seems like he comes up every inning with a man on second base and he'll find a spot to hit it to. He gets a double when we need somebody on base. I guess I've seen a couple of players hit for this extended period of time, but that was in college when they were playing 40-some games."

Langdon's high average has been a deterrent from his pitching statistics this season. He is currently 4-1 with an earned run average below 2.00. In his last outing, he recorded nine strikeouts against Civic Memorial.

"I think my hitting takes away from my pitching," Langdon said. "Nobody really recognizes what I do on the mound. I try to do better on the mound than I do hitting. If I go 0-for-4 in a game, but strike everybody out, I would rather do that."

The Knights, who were scheduled to play Edwardsville in a doubleheader Saturday, will visit Althoff at 4:30 p.m. Monday.

(Each week one prep varsity athlete will be selected by the Journal sports staff as the Illinois Journals Cardinal Club Athlete of the Week. Selected athletes will be featured in newspapers throughout the Journals' coverage area.)

Warriors place 3rd in county meet

By Rob Raphael
Staff writer

The track meets continue to become bigger in scope and meaning, but the Granite City athletes just won't go away.

Even though the Edwardsville boys and girls squads won the Madison County Meet, held Wednesday in Collinsville, Granite City continued to progress and make sure everyone else was aware of its presence.

The GCHS boys placed third in the four-team Class AA competition, while the girls finished fourth. Both teams had identical point totals (43).

In the boys meet, the Warriors placed in 13 of the 17 events held at Kahok Stadium. The GCHS girls had three first-place and three second-place finishers to add to their point total.

"We're extremely happy," said GCHS coach Gene Briggs. "Up and down, there were great performances. By and large, it was a good day for Granite City track."

The Warriors were led by two relay teams and one individual who placed second in the meet.

Kelly Huckelberry placed second in the 300-meter hurdles with a time of 43.2 seconds. Huckelberry also placed third in the 110-meter hurdles. The 4x100 and 4x200 teams each placed second, with the 400 team of Curtis Howard, Dane Egan, Steve Brown and Steve Logan finishing in 44.3 seconds.

And Bauer, Logan, Howard and Matt Hartin turned in a time of 1:33.8 to finish second in the 800-meter relay.

Also placing third at the meet were the 3,200 and 1,600 relay teams. The 3,200 team of Jeff Hassell, David Zellerman, Robert Lampitt and George Wolfe ran the relay in 8:55, while the 1,600 team of Howard, Brown, Wolfe and Chris Tindall finished in 3:45.4.

Bauer was third in the 100 dash (11.8). Aaron Howard placed third in the shot put (45-6 1/2) and the Warriors placed third in the high jump, long jump and triple jump.

Hartin was third in the high jump (5-10) and Logan was third in the long jump (19-10 1/2), even though both were entering the event for the first time. Wolfe was third in the triple jump (39-4).

Among the top girls performers were Stephanie Brandt, Nichole Done, who continued to dominate their events, while Bonnie Hill continued to surprise people in the hurdles.

Brandt won the county meet title with a discus throw of 117-10, and Beth Peenstra was second at 91-11. Peenstra also gained valuable points when she placed second in the shot put with a throw of 33-3/4.

Done placed first in the 3,200, at 12:43, and was also third in the 1,600 at 5:57. Hill placed first in the 100-meter hurdles with a time of 17.0, and second in the 300-meter hurdles with a mark of 52.8.

The only other event to place for the Lady Warriors was the 1600-meter relay. The team of Amanda Ragan, Amber Murphy, Heather Mell and Holly Ryan finished with a time of 4:47.1.

Only the top three finishers in each event placed and took home medals.

"We were hurt by last-minute injuries with the girls' team," Briggs said. "Christina Short was just named captain of the team, and her back acts up; and Becky Bargiel hurts her knee. That's injuries to two of our top sprinters, so that hurt us."

"But the group made up their minds that they were going to work hard, and they performed at the level we expected."

Briggs said the boys also had plenty of personal bests Wednesday.

"Both the boys and girls were extremely competitive, and ran to beat people, not just finish a race," Briggs said. "That's what we've been stressing to them the past two weeks."

Eagles 1126 state officers' weekend May 3-5

The Eagles Auxiliary 1126 held its second meeting of April with Joanna Spencer presiding. There were 22 members in attendance. All gave the Pledge of Allegiance.

Spencer announced that the Mother's Day dinner will be held at 6 p.m. May 14 at the Eagles Hall, 2538 Madison Ave. in Granite City. The Aerie will prepare and serve the meal.

The regular meeting will follow the Mother's Day dinner. The draping of the charter will be held for Betty Bladdick, a longtime member, who passed away on April 2. Iris McDermott, past grand madam president, was here at the time and participated in the memorial service, performed by the auxiliary at Irwin Chapel in Granite City.

The nominating committee presented the slate of officers. Nominations were taken from the floor. The slate of officers consisted of Spencer, junior past president; Sue Allen, president; Mildred Boyd, vice president; Nina Jackson, chaplain; Helen Mihu, conductor; La Verne Malzynski, inside guard; and Martha Simpson, three-year trustee.

An election will be held at 7 p.m. May 14 to select the outside guard officer. Mary Church and Sherri Wilson have been nominated.

The auxiliary and Aerie will hold a joint installation of officers at 2 p.m. June 1 at the Eagles Hall.

Mildred Boyd, visiting chairman, reported that she sent a sympathy card to Dianna Garrison, past state president, who recently lost her daughter, Sheila, to leukemia. Cards were sent to Spencer, who recently had surgery and is recovering nicely. Lorraine Parkinson and others who are ill or have been hospitalized were also remembered.

Nina Jackson has been approved as a bingo captain. She will replace Ederle, who will remain as bingo chairman. Ruth Jorgensen will remain as co-chairman.

Ottawa Auxiliary has invited all auxiliary members to attend the state officers' weekend May 3-5. The auxiliary will meet at 1 p.m. Saturday. A luau will be held at 5:30 p.m. Saturday, followed by a dance from 8 p.m. to midnight.

Correspondence from the Granite City Fire Department was read. They thanked the auxiliary for the donation sent last year that helped many children learn about fire safety. The auxiliary will send another donation of $200 this year for the program.

Spencer gave her report on the Southern Zone Conference she attended in Carbondale recently. Iris McDermott was the guest speaker at the conference. There were 22 auxiliary members in attendance. There were 61 Aerie members present. Of 70 auxiliaries, 30 were represented.

Delegates to the convention were named as follows: Mildred Boyd, Vera Johnson, Millie Weatherford, Evalene Ederle, Hilda Melton, Vincine Zerlan and Ruth Jorgensen. Sue Allen and Joanna Spencer are automatic delegates.

Billie Schuler announced that the park district will hold a meeting in room two of the Brown Recreation Center on April 30. Anyone interested can attend at 7 p.m.

The auxiliary will host a breakfast on May 5. Vera Johnson, bingo captain, requested workers for bingo following the breakfast.

Others in attendance at the meeting were Dorothy Landried, Betty Taylor, Flo Stokes, Del Deloney, Sherri Wilson, Helen Mihu, Sandra Tudor, Ann Pates, Katie Kostoff, Rose Piechocinski, Hilda Melton, Cathy Dehm, Vicki Wallace, Carol Miller, Barbara Modrusic, Helen Mueller, Liz Moore, Barbara Ramsey and Florence "Puzz" Hagmann.

The next meeting will be held May 14 with Katie Kostoff as hostess, along with her committee. Anyone needing a ride or more information should call Spencer at 451-2716.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some faint horizontal lines and small dark spots, possibly due to age or scanning artifacts. The right edge of the page is heavily shadowed, indicating it is part of a bound volume. There is no text or other markings on the page.

2 attend state Navy Mothers meeting

Mary E. Korscos, Illinois state commander of the Navy Mothers Club, and Edna Miller, Illinois state adjutant, attended the Illinois State Board meeting in Mendota.

The meeting was called to order by Korscos. The Illinois state officers gave the Pledge of Allegiance and the Navy Mothers Pledge.

Betty Sherman of Danville, Illinois state chaplain, gave the opening prayer. Miller read the minutes of the previous board meeting, which were approved as read.

Ruth Roth, Illinois state finance officer, gave her report, which was referred for audit.

Korscos was elected as the state delegate to the national Navy Mothers' Club convention, to be held in St. Louis.

Neva Pettit of Mendota was elected as the alternate delegate.

Miller, chairwoman of the Illinois state convention to be held in September of 1997, gave a report on what information has been obtained so far and asked for feedback pertaining to the upcoming convention.

A discussion was held on what action should be taken by Korscos on several referendums that will be presented at the St. Louis convention and on the red, white and blue theme of the parade of states there.

No further business was discussed. Sherman offered the closing prayer. All present gave the Navy Mothers' Pledge. The meeting was adjourned. The group will meet again in September.

Immediately after the board meeting, the Illinois state officers joined the past commanders from various Navy Mothers' Clubs for a luncheon and meeting, which was called to order by Neva Pettit of Mendota.

An opening prayer was offered by Nina George. Minutes of the previous meeting of the past commanders were read by Frances Egee of Mendota.

They were approved as read. He finance officer, Ruth Roth, gave her report, which was filed for audit.

Pettit, commander, asked Korscos if she had anything she wished to say. Korscos then asked for a show of hands of those planning to attend the national convention in St. Louis.

Following the meeting, plans were completed for the parade states, to be held at the convention. George offered the closing prayer and the Navy Mothers' Pledge.

A drawing was held with Korscos receiving a potpourri doll. A silent auction concluded the day.

Those attending were Korscos, Miller, George and Marlene Lipscomb, all of Granite City.

Lines from pictures often are memorable

By Kevin Carbery Staff writer

I believe it's time to bring back one of my favorite topics, famous movie lines of all time. My friends and I have been reciting lines from motion pictures for years. Sometimes we do it in the form of a game. At other moments, we just want to make each other laugh.

The way it works as a game is, somebody recites a line from a movie and the others then try to be the first to blurt out which film the line is from.

Lines from comedies are probably the most popular among my group of friends, but we'll use lines from any movie we've seen. Action pictures are also referred to quite a bit. Dramas get some attention, but not a lot.

As most of my friends and I are sports fans, a movie we keep going back to for lines is the hockey film "Slap Shot." When one person brings up a quote from that movie, it invariably leads to several other recollections of the picture. The film is such a cult sports hit that the characters of the Hanson brothers have been brought back 20 years later for beer commercials.

Another film that is a gold mine for great lines is "Monty Python and the Holy Grail," my favorite movie of all time. It is absolutely ridiculous and I know it almost line by line.

As for action films, Arnold Schwarzenegger is usually good for a memorable line or two in all of his pictures. He can be corny, but if put in the right film, what he says can stay with you.

For this week's trivia, I'll give you a line, you name the movie. I'm doing this from memory, so a word or two might possibly be off, but I should be pretty close.

1. "I am serious. And don't call me Shirley."
2. "People on ludes should not be driving."
3. "Hasta la vista, baby."
4. "Wormer dropped the big one, man. It's over."
5. "Don't call me stupid."
6. "How hard were you trying?"
7. "My name is Francis Sawyer. But everybody calls me Psycho."
8. "Roll'em up."

9. "We're not worthy."

10. "There's no crying in baseball."

ANSWERS: 1. "Airplane!" 2. "The Godfather Part II." 3. "Beverly Hills Cop." 4. "The Godfather Part II." 5. "The Godfather Part II." 6. "The Godfather Part II." 7. "The Godfather Part II." 8. "The Godfather Part II." 9. "The Godfather Part II." 10. "The Godfather Part II."

'Mystery Science Theater 3000' talks way to the large screen

The movie coming galaxy near you. You won't have to worry about talking back to the screen during "Mystery Science Theater 3000: The Movie." The film does it for you.

The cult TV show makes the leap to the big screen Friday with its first movie, a lampooning of the 1954 science-fiction epic "The Island Earth."

Usually, the cast of "Mystery Science Theater 3000" has only bottom-of-the-barrel flicks, such as "Monster a Go Go" and "Zombie Nightmare" to skewer. On television, cast members watch cheesy movies and ridicule the rubber-suited monsters and pie-plate flying saucers.

Head writer and show host Michael J. Nelson relished the opportunity to mock a movie with good production values.

"To see, for one, a movie that's in focus and uses more than one light — and it wasn't a work light from Montgomery Ward, but it is itself is great," Nelson said.

"But you can still see the wires every now and then," added Kevin Murphy, the puppeteer who works Nelson's little robot buddy, Tom Servo.

Together with Crow T. Robot, Nelson and Tom Servo suffer through the cinematic stinkers as part of a mad scientist's experiment. Their wisecracks and riffs on popular culture turn movie junk into comedic gems.

Now fans who bemoaned Comedy Central's recent decision not to order new episodes of the Peacock Award-winning show have a chance to see their heroes larger than life. While Universal's "This Island Earth" is considered a classic, Murphy said the tale of aliens kidnapping Earth scientists to help defend their planet hasn't aged well.

"You've got a hero who does nothing heroic. You've got a white, high-foreheaded alien who nobody knows he's an alien," Murphy said.

The movie version of "Mystery Science Theater 3000" is called "MST3K (to fans) isn't for science only, Nelson said. "We were pretty conscious that this had to be something that had to be self-contained," he said. "Any explanation that it needs is there, and hopefully humorously so."

Gramercy Pictures is releasing the movie in 25 cities on Friday.

School group elects officers

The Granite City Association of Educational Office Personnel held its April meeting at the Moonlight Restaurant in Godfrey.

Those attending were Melanie McFarland, Louise Moad, Kristen Hamilton, Marge Burdige, Sonya Ohnesian, Barb Bilibrey, Dorothy Larner, Vickie Simpson, Sharon Parker, Barb Dickerson, Arlene Smith, Zoe Mitchell, Barb Schreiber, Betty Grote, Berta Milliams and Nancy Rocco.

The meeting was called to order by Moad, who presided over the business session.

Officers for the 1996-97 year were elected. They are Bilibrey, president; McFarland, vice president and president-elect; Grote, recording secretary; Vivian Broadwater, corresponding secretary; and Schreiber, treasurer.

The May meeting will be held at Jerry's Cafeteria with new officers installed.
